

Migration & the City:

Politics, Poetry, Music in Washington, D.C.

Join us for "Migration & the City," a full-day symposium on the AU campus. This event brings together bright minds from a variety of backgrounds and approaches to discuss different facets of migration as they find artistic and political expression in the capital city.

Wednesday, April 26

9am-3pm, Hughes Formal Lounge

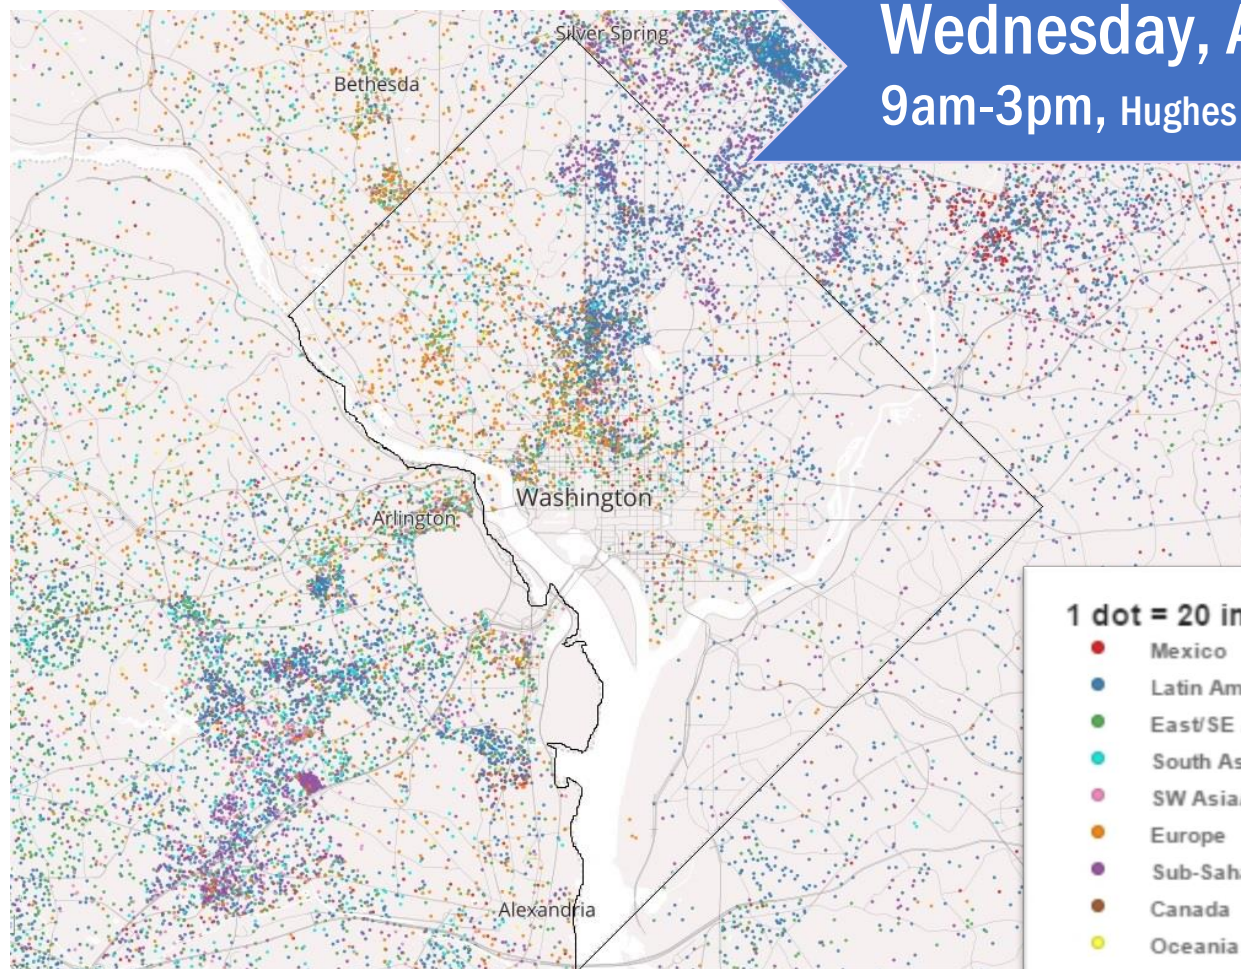

Image from <http://personal.tcu.edu/kylewalker/immigrant-america/>

PANELS

Politics: 9:15-10:15am

Carole Gallaher
SIS Associate Professor
Author of The Politics of Staying Put

Garrett Peck
Author, historian, &
tour guide in the nation's capital

Poetry: 10:30am-Noon

E. Ethelbert Miller
Poet, educator, & literary activist

Monica Villacorta
AU senior & poet

Gowri Koneswaran
Poet, performing artist, & lawyer

Music: 1:00-2:30pm

Kip Lornell
George Washington University
professor & music scholar

Lindsey Zoladz
Music Columnist, The Ringer

Natalie Hopkinson
Howard University professor
& music scholar

RSVP

by April 19 to Sarai Johnson at MigrationandtheCity@gmail.com for a complimentary lunch.

Sponsored by:

